

If a person chooses to subscribe and pay for a radio system knowing that the networks aren't censored in such a manner, that's their choice! Who gives you the right to control everything we listen to? There are plenty of family friendly channels on XM Radio, and people who choose to pay for the system and service can choose to listen to those if they prefer.